THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

IF in "everything" we are to "give thanks," especially should we do so, when we come together to tell of mercies received, and of duties discharged, during another year of hospital life.

Our "mercies" cannot be fully recounted, for they have indeed been "new every morning—fresh every evening," and repeated during every hour of the year past. A few, however, may be stated, as illustrating the continual care and watchful providence of God over our Institution.

Not a Member of the Board of Managers, or of the Medical Staff, or of the officers and attaches of the Hospital, has been removed by death during the past year. This exemption of so large a number of persons, deserves our grateful acknowledgment to Him, who is "the Lord and giver of life."

The large amount of religious teaching which has been given in the Hospital during the last year, merits our warmest acknowledgment to Almighty God. There have been uninterrupted services in the Chapel, and in the several wards, by the faithful Chaplain, and those associated with him in the religious instruction of the patients; and not only so, but “the truth as it is in Jesus” has been brought personally to bear on each individual, by bed-side conversation and prayer—so that, while our more formal services have hallowed each hospital day with morning and evening incense, no individual has been overlooked in the general worship, but each has been specially dealt with, in the way of individual exhortation, guidance and consolation.

The holy influences thus diffused, like an equally pressing atmosphere, on all the inmates of the Hospital, cannot be counted up. Yet this is, after all and behind all, the real life-work of a Church Hospital.

Our well-organized system of remedial agencies is not designed to find its end and complement in bodily cures alone, noble as that end is, and worthy as it is, of the efforts of a large-hearted philanthropy; but we seek to go beyond these into the realm of the soul, and in humble imitation of our blessed Lord, to make healing gifts forerunners of spiritual cures; and thus, take the results of sin, disease and wounds, and make them subserve the healing of the soul’s more grievous ills; turning the work of Satan against himself, and overthrowing his kingdom through the instrumentalities which himself has introduced. And so the Hospital where sickness always abides, and where death so often comes, is made a House of Mercy, the spiritual birthplace of many precious souls.

The nature of this hospital work does not permit us to see its full results. We only behold that part of it which ripens in the Wards and Chapel; the far larger influence, which, beginning in the wards and at the bedside, is, for a time, like seed hid in the earth, and comes to perfection in families and circles outside the Institution, and in after years, no human mind can compute. We beg to call attention to the Report of the Chaplain, as exhibiting the religious aspect of the Hospital, and its moral power to bless the large and important class brought under his Pastoral care, and the tender and pious effects of those women who have labored with him in the gospel, and for whose self-sacrificing labors we render grateful acknowledgments for ourselves, and in behalf of the Diocese.

The Medical management of the Institution is unchanged in policy and personnel, and continues to merit the praise which the highest English and American authorities have bestowed upon the arrangements and practical working of our Institution. The Board cannot be too rigid in making its Medical Staff represent the best professional talent, and in keeping the building, in its plans and adaptations, as the representative of all that architecture and ingenuity and skill can do, in producing a perfect Hospital.

The appended table of medical statistics will show what the Hospital proper and the Dispensary have done the past years.

In this connection it is proper to remark, that the larger average duration of treatment, or residence in the Hospital, is due to the larger number of cases of phthisis and other chronic diseases, and for this reason we may expect a greater average mortality, especially when we add to these the increasing number of fatal injury cases treated in our wards. The more convenient arrangements which we now have for patients, will largely increase that class, and thus essentially widen our influence, and prepare freer access for our missionary work around the Hospital.

The Free Bed system gains gradually on the mind of the Church, fifteen having been subscribed for during the year. This forms an important agency for good, not only by its contribution to the funds of the Institution, but specially by being a ligament to connect the Hospital with the Church. This begets a sympathy for, and an interest in, the Hospital, which will most effectually call forth the prayers, the labors, and the means of the Church in its behalf. The more the Church is brought in contact with the Hospital, the more will it recognize the efficiency of the Hospital as a means of spiritual good, and the more will it impart to it its own life-giving power, and material support. A Church which makes no provision for the sick and needy, does not represent her absent Lord. The Church Hospital, or its equivalent, is as much an inherent part of Christianity as the attention which our Lord paid to the sick and halt and maimed was an inherent part of his Incarnation—or as the gift of healing was an inherent part of the Apostolic office and power. “Miserably has the Church fallen from her first love, if she is content to relinquish one of her chief and most ancient labors of love. She well nigh ceases to be a mother.”* We trust that there will be no such falling away of our Churches; on the contrary, the increased expenses of keeping up the Hospital at the advanced price of household and medical stores, demands increased liberality, for the sum at which the free beds were originally rated is altogether too small now to pay the expenses of that bed, if occupied the whole year, and in such a case the Institution would lose rather than gain by the system.

During the past year, in compliance with the will of Miss Grasby, the title “Hannah Ward” was assigned to the female ward in the second story, and the name was ordered to be conspicuously placed there, together with an extract of her will, showing why it was done.

The financial condition will be seen by the Treasurer’s Report to be sound, though not reaching up to our needs, either in the full sustaining of the present wards, or for completing the eastern wing, and thus perfecting the original plan of the Institution. As it now stands, one-sided and incomplete, it is a perpetual advertisement of need—a perpetual call for help—a silent pleader to the Church to fill up that which remains, to carry out the work which the Church solemnly sanctioned and inaugurated. We hope that this call will not be unheeded by those to whom God has given the wealth of this world, but that these walls may be built up even in the troublous times on which we have fallen.

The total cost of supporting the Hospital during 1864, is nearly twenty-two thousand dollars. The average cost of each patient for the year was about three hundred dollars, including repairs and dispensary medicine. The total cost of the Hospital has been materially reduced by the donation of nearly fifteen hundred dollars worth of coal; and also by the large amount of fresh vegetables, milk, eggs, poultry, &c., produced under the good management of the Superintendent, on the Hospital grounds; and we are happy to know, that through the same judicious oversight, arrangements are in progress by which a sufficient supply of these will be produced on our premises to meet all future demand.

Early in the year a Committee of the Board was raised to present our cause to the boards of directors of the several rail-roads (horse and steam) which converged near our grounds, and to solicit from them contributions to our funds. As a large per cent. of accidents treated in the Hospital, come from these roads, it was deemed but just that the roads which contribute the patients should provide the pay, thus not only doing that which is honorable for themselves, and relieving them of the charge and burden of their wounded, but also enabling us to open our doors more freely to others also, who may require our care.

The application which this Committee made to the Reading Rail-road resulted in the handsome donation of ten thousand dollars from that corporation, in return for which, they ask for the permanent use, should it be required, of two beds for the employees of their road. The same road has also, in connexion with the North Pennsylvania and Lehigh Valley and other Railroads, remitted the freight and tolls upon many tons of coal, generously contributed to the Hospital, by several liberal mine operators in the Schuylkill and Lehigh regions. The Committee are still at work, and it is to be hoped that their final report will tell of full success.

It is a matter of thankful acknowledgment, that the Legislature of the State made an appropriation to our Hospital of five thousand dollars, thus recognizing our worth, and endorsing our claim, to public sympathy and support.

There has been but one change in the Board since our last meeting. Peter McCall, Esq., who has been deeply interested in this work from its beginning, and whose liberality, both pecuniary and professional, is worthy of praise, has felt called upon, by reason of ill health, to decline a seat at this Board. We part from him with sincere regret, conscious, however, that while we may lose his personal presence and advice, his substantial interest in the growth of our Institution, which he helped to plant and mature, will still continue.

Among our benefactors we have lost a most valued co-worker, in the death of Miss Williamina Smith. This lady, whose life, for many years, has been consecrated to deeds of benevolence, in the cause of Christ and his Church, and whose name is associated with several societies of great practical and religious efficiency, as their founder, directress, and principal supporter, has also, by her noble deeds, caused her memory to be enshrined among those generous ones to whom this Hospital Board will ever delight to honor.

When the Institution was first projected, she was solicitous to provide for a Chaplain and contributed largely towards the support of one. After her friend, Miss Hollingsworth, gave the funds which built the Chapel, as a memorial to the Rev. Dr. Wilson, Miss Smith generously set aside ten thousand dollars—a legacy from a friend to herself, as an endowment for a chaplain fund, making over to the Hospital the whole sum which she received, as a free-will offering to the Lord. She has entered into the rest of the Lord, but her name will ever take its place among those, who, while they lived, served God by words and alms—by faith and charity, following in the steps of those holy women, who ministered to the incarnate Lord, and succored the Apostles and founded the earliest institutions of Christian benevolence—the Dorcas's, the Phœbes, the Fabiolas, and the Paulas of Apostolic and Primitive day. So long as the voice of prayer and praise and the preached Word shall be heard in our Chapel, so long will the name of Miss Williamina Smith be held in remembrance, and so long will her noble benefaction be actively at work in the service of her Lord. And here it cannot but be noted, that our largest and most striking contributions have been from ladies. The names of those ever to be honored women, now living—Leamy and Hollingsworth and Stout; and of those now sainted ones—Grasby and Smith and Moore and Pierepont, to whom we owe our largest benefactions, show us, in their several and joint labors, how much can be accomplished by the piety and zeal and liberality of the gentler sex, whose services Jesus accepted and honored on earth, and which his representative, the Church, will ever hold up as bright examples, and in grateful remembrance.

The old Mansion, unused by us at present, has been temporarily granted by the Board to the Foster Home Association, in which to keep their little ones, while their new Home is being built, and is now occupied by them, while the Sunday-school, which was held there, has been removed to the basement of the new building.

Thanking God for the blessings vouchsafed us during the past year, we would project ourselves with new life and vigor, into the year that is at hand,—praying God so to endue the Board with strength and grace, and so to stir up the wills of his faithful people to large-hearted charities, that we may at our next report give a better account of our Stewardship, and show that the Hospital is becoming increasingly dear to the Church, as it is ever near and dear to the heart of Christ.

Abstract from Chaplain's Report.

The Chaplain (the Rev. Dr. Spear) reports that he has been able, with few interruptions, to give himself to the religious care of the patients and to the duties of the Chapel—that his earlier impressions of the workings of the Hospital, and the principles on which it is founded, are confirmed, and that it needs little but more ample means to make it all that its founders and friends desire. He recommends especially the addition of more "Church Beds," to meet the wants of poor members of our Communion.

He bears strong testimony to the efficient aid which he has had in bed-side ministrations from several ladies of the city, in the instruction of a daily Bible class and in the Sunday school. He expresses deep regret at the loss, through ill health, of some most valued laborers. He recognizes the value of the spiritual, as well as temporal, services of Mr. W. Welsh, who (at the Bishop's request) exercises a temporary supervision over the several branches of its work.

He expresses a high appreciation of the influence and skilful administration of the Lady-Resident, especially in connection with his own work.

He has been cheered by many instances of radical reformation, or essential improvement, among the patients, and states that of eight whom he has buried, all but two had become followers of Christ while in the Hospital.

He is cheered by the Sunday school, which gathers in from two to three hundred children, and by the large congregations on the afternoons of the Lord's day. He laments that more attention cannot be bestowed on the religious welfare of the dispensary patients, and mentions that recently a deacon in the Church has given two or three afternoons of each week to visiting them at their houses, and the mornings to the dispensary itself.

The services in the Wards consist of singing, short portions of the Liturgy, with Bible reading and expositions, and are received with respectful attention—in many cases with fervent thankfulness.

He gives a portion of his time to writing letters for the patients, and attending to other interests of theirs outside the Hospital. With the aid of ladies and other patients, several are taught to read and write.

Clergymen of our Church, and of other Communion, are inmates of the Hospital when sick. One (a Presbyterian) was ministered to in his last hours.

Thirteen have been confirmed; eight adults and twenty one children have been baptized—of the adults, five were patients.

Want of space prevents more than a bare abstract of the report.

REPORT OF CASES TREATED IN 1864.

During the year there have been five hundred and ninety-two patients admitted. These, with the sixty remaining in the Hospital at the date of the last report, make the whole number treated during the year six hundred and fifty-two (652).

There have been three thousand five hundred and forty-four (3544) Dispensary patients prescribed for and furnished with medicines, without charge.

In the accompanying Abstract of House Cases, the greater number of those marked unimproved were removed by their friends, or discharged at their own request, before any material benefit could be expected.
